By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — At least 250 persons perished and 300,000 were left homeless in a series of wind-whipped fires which raged through tinder-dry pine forests in the Southern state of Parana, reports reaching here said today.

Brazilian and U.S. teams rushed firefighters, food and blood plasma to the stricken state, Brazil's most important coffee-producing area.

Gov. Ney Braga, who appealed for outside assistance, said the situation in the drought-plagued state was "much worse than you can imagine."

Forty-nine bodies have been recovered and the death toll probably will go much higher. Col. Italo Cortes, director of the firefighters, reported from Curitiba, the state capital 200 miles Southwest of Sao Paulo.

Many communities in the path of the flames are in remote areas and some settlements are accessible only by air. Firefighters were hampered further by 30-mile-an-hour winds.

Cortes said one fire was brought under control outside Monte Alegre, Brazil's major paper-manufacturing center, but the city of about 30,000 still was in danger.

Cortes said it appeared that only a heavy rain could quell the fires. He said the state has had no soaking rain for eight months.

In addition to coffee plantations and vast lumber resources, the subtropical state bordering Argentina and Paraguay has many rich farms developed by Italian, German and Slav immigrants.

Disabled in Wheel Chair Protest

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — A Seattle grandmother was parked in her wheelchair on the steps of the state capitol building today, quickly becoming the most persistent lobbyist and top tourist attraction around.

Mrs. Peggie Goodman, 59, has been there for two days and two nights and says she won't go home until the state boosts her welfare payments.

While she waits, she sizes up politicians for her many visitors. Of Gov. Albert Rosellini she says: "He's a good man a wonderful person." No such praise for the legislature: "They'd rather put in concrete and shrubs and let the wheelchair cripples go to heck."

Mrs. Goodman appeared Wednesday to ask the governor to call a special session of the legislature to restore a 12 per cent cut in welfare benefits made in the past three years.

He told her there could be no special session now, and welfare cuts had to be made because the past two legislatures have trimmed his budget requests.

She's entitled to $128-a-month as disability payment because of a circulatory ailment, but gets only $113 because of the reduction.

She says her campaign isn't just for herself, but for all the wheelchair recipients and hopes others will join her sit-in. So far, none have.

Government aides bring her food and coffee and blankets to keep her warm at night. The tourists keep her company by day and the watchman breaks the monotony at night.

She says she's prepared to stay as long as it takes to do the job.

Wants Interest in Elections

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. David H. Pryor of Ouachita County said Thursday night Arkansas citizens should take interest in elections of justices of the peace, county judges and other local officials.

He told a Little Rock civic club this is where the basic political power structure lies. He said entrenched political forces want to maintain a status quo in the state.

The biggest handicaps to reform are apathy, indifference and political ignorance, he said.

It's a speculative design for the future dreamed up by Republic Aviation scientists.

U.S. Won't Give Up 3 Buddhists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department rebuffed today a South Vietnamese demand that it turn over three Buddhist monks now in refuge in the U.S. Embassy in Saigon.

A spokesman said the United States would not hand the monks over without "satisfactory assurances as to their safety."

One of the three is Thich Tri Quang, leader of the Buddhist opposition movement. The three sought asylum in the embassy at Saigon Sunday after 12 days of hiding.

On broader issues involved in the Vietnamese crisis, including questions of whether the United States policy of seeking reforms has collapsed, the spokesman declined to discuss the situation.

At one point press officer Richard I. Phillips was asked whether the United States was reconsidering the position taken by President Kennedy Monday night.

In a television interview then, Kennedy said the South Vietnamese government of Ngo Dinh Diem has lost touch with the people, and changes in policy and perhaps in personnel are needed.

Phillips said: "As to whether or not there will be any change in the position enunciated by the President on Sunday, I would have to refer you to the White House." He declined to elaborate.

Goldwater Gets Call From JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., stepped into the White House limelight today at the personal request of President Kennedy.

During a ceremony honoring retired Air Force Gen. Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell, Kennedy, walking to the steps outside his office to present the Distinguished Service Medal to O'Donnell, first called to a group of his former Senate colleagues who were waiting to witness the ceremony from the lawn of the rose garden.

He called the senators by their last names "Senator Smathers, Senator Symington" — until he spotted Goldwater, Kennedy's potential Republican rival in the 1964 presidential campaign.

"Barry," called Kennedy waving the Arizona to join the others on the steps. This familiar greeting to Goldwater drew some laughter and Kennedy hastened to add "we are all friends."

Goldwater is a major general in the Air Force Reserve.

After the ceremony, Goldwater chatted briefly with Kennedy and their conversation ended in laughter over some private joke.

O'Donnell retired July 31 as commander in chief of Pacific air forces.

Unscheduled Landing HALIFAX (AP) — A Swiss jet made an unscheduled landing at Halifax International Airport Thursday to check a report that a bomb had been placed aboard.

The plane took off 3½ hours later after a search failed to turn up anything. It was on route to Zurich from New York.

Sawmill Wood Piles Turned Into Money

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Staff Writer

Did you ever wonder why you no longer see those piles of scrap wood stacked up for burning around sawmills and plants which use timber as a raw material?

The wood piles were a familiar sight around Arkansas in the 1930s and 1940s. A few mills sold them as firewood, but widening use of natural gas wiped out that market.

Enterprising mill owners quickly found another — a very rewarding one. They took advantage of Arkansas' emergence as an industrial and paper mill state and began selling wood chips as pulpwood.

In 1961 the last year for which records are complete, 62 Arkansas wood-using industries were selling chips, about 400,000 cords annually. The one-time waste material is worth almost $6 million a year.

Ninety-five per cent of the chip volume in Arkansas is pine and almost all of it comes from sawmill residue. About 10 per cent is produced by wood preserving plants, veneer mills and box factories.

The wood chip industry rocketed after the first commercial shipping facility was opened at a sawmill in Bradley County in 1953. By the end of that year, a dozen mills were in the business and it spread quickly over the South.

In 1961, the South produced 1,620,000 cords of chips, worth almost $23 million.

Sale of hardwood chips is limited by a need to separate chips from different kinds of trees before processing in most plants. Still, use of hardwood chips increased 22 per cent over the South between 1959 and 1961 while use of pine increased only nine per cent.

Dan R. Wallace a forest products marketing specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service estimates that the chips produced in Arkansas represent one year's production of 400,000 acres of growing trees since the rate of growth is figured at one cord per acre per year.

"That means it will take 400 acres to produce pulpwood equivalent to that being produced now from mill residue," he said.

Pulp chips are shipped by both rail and truck and distances range up to 340 miles. Only one per cent travels more than 200 miles and more than half is marketed within 60 miles of where it is produced.

Arkansas ranks third among Southern states in the number of plants producing chips and second in the amount of chips sold.

The price of wood chips has been relatively stable over the past five years with pine chips bringing about $6.30 a ton and hardwood chips $4.98 a ton.

4th Man Charged LONDON (AP) — Ronald A. Biggs, 34, Wednesday became the fourth person charged with taking part in Britain's $7½-million mail train robbery.

Five other persons are under arrest on charges of receiving portions of the loot from the Aug. 8 robbery of the Glasgow-London train.

After a brief court hearing, Biggs was returned to jail pending a court appearance next Tuesday.

County Calls for More Poll Taxes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Auditor Jimmie Jones said Wednesday Ouachita County has asked for an been given 1,000 extra poll tax receipts in anticipation of heavy sales before the Oct. 1 deadline.

Jones said he expected a number of other counties in the state to ask for an increased number of receipts and he has an extra 20,000 ordered.

Ouachita County, he said is the first to ask for extra receipts.

Last year Jones' office distributed 649,900 of the receipts of which 601,991 were sold. Jones said he has ordered 660,000 this year.

Jones said drivers to qualify more Arkansas voters may result in increased sales this year.

Burlesque Bows Out in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — One of show business' fading arts — burlesque — followed the nickel beer and the five-cent cigar in San Francisco Thursday night. It is no more.

Hundreds of outraged patrons hammered at the door of the Old President Folies, and let it be known they didn't want burlesque to die. But it did. The theater has been sold.

A standing-room-only crowd of 1,100 shouting men, and a few women, roared as the girls tipped through their last routine.

When the second show started with five young women displacing their coverings discreetly on an ancient runway, the management had to close the doors.

The call of burlesque — "take it off" — rose like ocean roars.

About 300 dedicated patrons queued up outside and set up a howl heard for blocks. Police were called and shoved them away.

Inside, at the last "boom" of the drum, the young ladies hurled their panties into bald head row, waved a dainty good-bye and San Francisco's last burlesque house was closed.

Cathie Carver Skolak, who inherited the burlesque show from her husband, said she closed it to go to Nashville, Tenn., as a western singer.

Burlesque — largely due to strip-competition from night clubs — had not been doing well in the San Francisco area for years.

Newspaper publicity attracted the throng for the finale.

AEA Intervenes In FCC Request

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Educational Television Commission has petitioned the Federal Communications Commission for intervention in the effort of Television Station KATV to move its transmitter from near Pine Bluff to near Little Rock.

The station has offered to donate its transmitting tower and other equipment at Jefferson Springs to the commission if the FCC approves the move of transmitting facilities to a point 10 miles west of Little Rock.

Commission Chairman Tom E. Tyler said Thursday his agency's efforts to establish educational television in the state would be seriously hampered if the FCC does not approve the KATV move.

An FCC examiner has recommended denial of the station's request.

Solon Approval Of Test Ban Is Expected

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield says he still expects overwhelming Senate approval of the limited nuclear test ban treaty despite the announced opposition of Chairman Richard B. Russell and some members of his Senate Armed Services Committee.

Russell, a Georgia Democrat, said Friday that "after long and careful study, I find that I cannot conscientiously support this treaty."

The opposition came as no surprise to Mansfield.

Approval by two-thirds of those voting is required for ratification. If all 100 senators vote, at least 67 votes will be needed for approval when the showdown comes after an expected two weeks of debate.

Usually reliable sources said checks indicate the opposition will be unable to rally more than 20 votes.

Russell said he will outline his reasons for opposition during debate starting Monday on the treaty banning nuclear testing except underground.

His announcement followed similar ones from Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the armed forces preparedness investigating subcommittee, and Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., a member of the subcommittee and the parent group.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., a member of the full committee, told an interviewer he, too, is inclined to oppose ratification.

"Unless I am presented evidence between now and the time the Senate votes that will sway my fears I shall vote against the treaty," Byrd said.

Democratic and Republican leaders are expected to work shoulder-to-shoulder for ratification.

The opposition is expected to muster its biggest vote on attempts to write reservations into the treaty which would require its renegotiation with the Soviet Union, Great Britain and more than 80 other signers.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., will offer a reservation to postpone the effectiveness of the treaty until the Soviets remove military equipment and personnel from Cuba.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., has said he will offer another making clear that under the treaty the United States can use its nuclear weapons at its own hoosing in self-defense or the defense of its allies.

Stennis, in a Senate speech, said that closed committee testimony by military and scientific experts convinced him that there is "cause for great concern and alarm about the security implications of the proposed treaty."

He said his subcommittee will provide a report and summary of these hearings before the Senate votes.

Burned Boy Has Lot of Courage

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — "If only he'd complain," said a nurse. "He never wants anything. He cries in silence. No grown man could ever have Benny's courage."

In a room at Richmond's Medical College of Virginia Hospital, Benny Tyson, 15, lay in silence Thursday. Tears had stained his cheeks.

Moments earlier he had been wheeled into the room after a second major skin-grafting operation to repair damage inflicted when Benny was burned over most of his body July 22.

It was hot and muggy that July morning, when Benny went into the backyard of his Winchester home for bow and arrow practice. He coveted a Boy Scout badge in archery.

Benny had the day to himself. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benjamin Tyson Sr., were at work.

About 10 a.m., Benny shot an arrow, but it missed its mark and pierced a gasoline can. Gingerly, he pulled on the arrow, taking care not to damage the steel tip.

Somehow the point caused a spark. Fumes in the air but empty can exploded. Benny dropped to the ground, his clothes in flames.

John David Briscoe, 14, a Negro who also is a Scout, saw what had happened. He pulled off Benny's shirt, then carried the white youngster to the Tyson home and telephoned Mrs. Tyson.

Emergency treatment was performed at Winchester Memorial Hospital. A doctor said Benny must be sent to the Richmond hospital at once.

"But," said Mrs. Tyson, "he told us there was no hope for him at all."

By 5 p.m., Benny was at the Richmond hospital — 153 miles away. He had lost most of an ear, part of a thumb, and had second and third-degree burns over most of his body. But in a week, the good news came: Benny would live.

"Benny, meantime, lies perfectly still. The skin grafts are 'taking.'"

You make a wisecrack and Benny will smile. It hurts too much to talk but when he speaks, he tells you, "I feel fine."

Reprieve Granted to Doomed Man

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown granted a reprieve to William Lee Harrison, who was to die in the gas chamber today for slaying his common law wife.

"The execution was called off on a reprieve from Gov. Brown," Associate Warden Dale B. Frady told newsmen.

Brown returned home only Thursday night after a European tour.

UN Censures

JERUSALEM (AP) — The U.N. Armistice Commission censured both Israel and Jordan for "flagrant armistice violations" in a border incident west of Jerusalem that resulted in the death of an Israeli worker.

The exchange of fire on Aug. 24 resulted in complaints to the commission by both nations.

By MARY ANITA LASETER

In Hope we have a Bookmobile every week, and last winter we were privileged to have an Artmobile pay us a three-day visit. Next Thursday, September 12 another kind of mobile unit will be located at 6th and Main from 4 to 5 p.m.

It will be the Girl Scout Hand-bookmobile you will see at that location, and it will be easily recognized with its flying, gaily colored balloons.

The colors of the balloons will correspond to the colors of the four completely new Girl Scout handbooks that go on sale for the first time next week. The handbooks are for the four new age levels in Girl Scouting: Brownie Girl Scouts (ages 7 and 8), Junior Girl Scouts (ages 9, 10, 11), Cadette Girl Scouts (ages 12, 13, 14), and Senior Girl Scouts (ages 15 to 17).

One of the top best-sellers in this country for years has been the Girl Scout handbook. Many adults, as well as the scouts, find much valuable information in the handbook, ranging from cooking to craftwork, from manners to medical aid. The handbooks made attractive and useful additions to any home, church, or school library, and, of course, are to be found in public libraries throughout the country.

First editions of the new handbooks will be on sale all next week at stores that sell Girl Scout equipment. For those girls who live far away from the stores, handbooks will be made available.

All handbooks purchased next week will contain special book plates indicating that they were acquired during the first week of sale.

Commenting on the cost of the handbook, $1 per copy, Mrs. Cleoth Smith, Melvin Neighborhood Chairman, said: "We are extremely happy that the Girl Scout organization is able to offer these beautiful books at a price most girls can afford."

Trade books of the same quality would sell for much more. Many of the girls in our council have themselves earned the money to buy their new handbooks."

Mrs. Smith went on to explain that the four books represent successive stages in one continuous program for girls aged 7 through 17. Each was produced by a team of specialists, including a Girl Scout program adviser, a writer, a designer and an illustrator.

The teams incorporated into the books ideas which came from Girl Scouts all over the country. The result? The books are packed with facts, how-to-do-it information and ideas for projects encompassing every aspect of activity in the arts, the home and the out-of-doors.

Parts of Swiss Jet Broke Away ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Experts probing the Swissair Caravelle disaster confirmed today parts of the ill-fated jet broke away during its take-off here Wednesday and said this "probably led to a chain reaction which caused the crash."

A Swissair spokesman said the investigation team still is mystified as to why the parts broke off. But he said the findings so far make the likelihood of sabotage extremely remote.

The crash killed all 30 persons on board.

Gov. Wallace In New Legal Crossfire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George Wallace was caught today in a new legal crossfire over the closing of Alabama schools facing desegregation.

Resentment and criticism of Wallace's actions mounted, while he kept secret any plans for continuing the long fight against federal court orders.

Wallace ran into these rapid-fire legal developments Friday:

—A federal judge ordered the governor to show why he should not be restrained from interfering with Birmingham schools.

—Negroes filed suit for an order restraining Wallace from blocking desegregation of four Huntsville schools where state troopers enforced a Wallace closing order Friday.

—A federal court hearing was set on a motion by Negro attorneys to force the school board here to reopen the schools which are scheduled to accept five Negroes.

First of the court fights is set for Monday when U.S. Dist. Judge H. H. Grooms will consider the request for a restraining order against Wallace.

Attorneys for 6-year-old Sonny Hereford, Huntsville Negro, asked Grooms to prohibit Wallace from barring the boy from a white school.

Young Hereford and three other Negroes, along with 2,000 white pupils, were turned away from the schools ordered shut down for one day by Wallace.

A Wednesday hearing was set by U.S. Dist. Judge Seymour H. Lynne on a move for an injunction against the Birmingham school board. Negro attorneys asked that the board be ordered to reopen three schools closed after violence here Wednesday night in which one person was killed and 20 hurt.

Two Negro boys enrolled at a Birmingham elementary school but have not attended any classes. Three other Negroes are to enter two white high schools.

Attorneys for the Negro boys, Dwight and Floyd Armstrong, asked Lynne to issue the order, cause order to Wallace. Lynne set a Thursday hearing.

When Wallace defied court orders last June, Lynne enjoined the governor from physically interfering with desegregation of the University of Alabama. Wallace made a promised doorway stand but yielded to federalized National Guardsmen.

The governor lost his latest legal encounter with Negro attorneys with a ruling by three federal judges that violence or the threat of it is not a basis for closing the Birmingham schools.

This decision was handed down by Judges Walter Gwin of Tuscaloosa, John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans and Griffin Bell of Atlanta. They rejected a suit filed by six white parents, backed by Wallace.

School officials in Huntsville planned to start the fall term Monday. School board attorney Joe Payne said Wallace had promised not to interfere.

Indications were that two Negroes would enter a white school in Mobile next week. State troopers were poured into the port city by Wallace but the Negroes did not show up Friday as scheduled.

Defied by school officials in Huntsville and Tuskegee, where troopers closed a school, Wallace came under fire Friday from several directions.

Parents at Huntsville schools voiced resentment and about 25 mothers marched through a line of troopers at one school to register their children.

Three of the five city councilmen at Huntsville adopted a resolution condemning Wallace's actions.

Gen. Trujillo Remembered in Dominican

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The ghost of Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo still rules the Dominican Republic.

The memory of the dictator, dead two years, was a major factor in the 1962 presidential election. His shadow today threatens the stability of this infant democracy.

Juan Bosch, a white-thatched author-professor was swept into office only eight months ago by a crushing national vote of approval. Now his growing unpopularity is one of many disturbing signs here.

"The trouble here," says a foreign businessman, "is that everyone wants to govern, but after 31 years of tyranny nobody really knows how."

A lack of distinguishable national and international policies springs from widespread administrative incompetence. This has aroused the business and professional classes and some segments of labor, and tended to alienate the Roman Catholic Church.

As a result, a once-brilliant economic picture is dimming and the probabilities of violence are increasing. There is a growing feeling that President Bosch's government may not survive long.

Prominent Dominicans regard the tenor and scope of the opposition as confirming a theory that Bosch didn't win the 1962 presidential elections, the National Civic Union lost them.

This view holds that the once-powerful civic union lost out when it insisted on a pre-election policy of punishing all former collaborators and associates of Trujillo. It is said a great segment of the population—including the military establishment—felt itself threatened by such a policy and therefore came to regard Bosch as the lesser of two evils.

The irony of the situation now is that Bosch, whose revolutionary party adopted a soft approach to the Trujillo issue, has asked for stiff confiscation measures against all who might have benefited—even indirectly—under the fallen tyrant.

Announcement of a new confiscation law drove antigovernment feeling to its most dangerous peak. The uproar was but one of the many storms kicked up by the Bosch regime.

By word and deed the president seems to have contributed to unrest that has driven investment capital away and frightened American companies whose holdings are valued at $500 million.

There have been recent signs the president is softening his sometimes stubborn and arbitrary attitudes.

But there are fears the situation cannot continue as it is without an explosion.

Any move by Bosch to stem the tide and restore confidence in the business sector by easing up on some of his reforms could be the signal for the Castroites and far left to make their move.

because the outflow of American dollars increases the deficit in the balance of payments (which this year is far from balanced). That builds up surplus dollars abroad which could be turned into the U.S. Treasury for more of its gold, already subject to disturbing shrinkage.

Some European countries, although they like to get the dollars, are worried because the American investment money could mean Yankee control of their industries.

France, for one, is moving to regulate the flow of outside capital by requiring prior notice of any intention by Americans or others to buy into French companies, except in the normal operations of the French stock exchange where the influx can be watched. The target is private deals which have been fairly common.

France is urging the other nations in the Common Market to work out a common policy on foreign investment. Dollars are welcome as long as they aid economic growth in general. They are suspect if they seem to foreshadow American control of particular industries.

Natural aging of skin is inevitable. Most women can keep their skin looking younger longer with a regime of a proper amount of sleep, exercise and correct foods. After 30, regular facial massage and use of moisturizing creams and cleansing lotions that stimulate circulation and tone muscles are essential. The model (left) uses a cleansing emulsion to remove the day's grime and accumulation of natural oils. She follows this with a cleansing lotion rinse (center) and gives herself a facial massage (right) beginning massages gently in a circular motion to complete this portion of her daily skin care regime.

DOROTHY DIX

LEST WE FORGET
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Your advice to the wife whose husband spent more time next door in an untidy house than in his neat home rises me, especially the belittling her as "a housecleaning addict."

I, too, have seen both his and her kind but the opposite type of wife who doesn't mind filth and clutter is hard to take. Lest we forget, cleanliness is next to godliness.

That husband ought to be thankful for a wife who cares. On the other hand, maybe the wife should make a self-survey. Too many women seek to substitute good cooking, housekeeping and motherly love for being a good bed partner and making the husband feel wanted. Much about the house will be overlooked if a man knows he is loved and needed. This is Biblical.

I have another bone to pick with you. Take that letter from the boy who was engaged to the "cold" girl. He complained that "you don't buy a pair of shoes without first trying them on." That's not true of a good shopper. A good brand of shoes can be sent from the store to the house without trying them on. This applies to girls too. If that boy only knew it, his girl's coolness is a stamp of a good brand. I still believe in purity and virgin marriages.

Have you ever thought of consulting Him who needs no appointment and can be reached at any time from any place? If your day had begun with honest soul-searching prayer, you would not have advised that boy to ask his girl why she was "cold."

I'm a registered nurse, have been happily married 12 years and am the mother of three well-adjusted children. My husband and I are active in church and civic affairs. Sounds like an ideal home, doesn't it? True there have been a few low days but I can truthfully say only the day when we forget to include God in the day's work.

Being a nurse, the doctor and I can make a patient comfortable, but it takes God to heal. The same way with family life—people can struggle along to fair comfort but it takes God for real happiness. The family who prays together, stays together.

You may well ask what the spiritual aspects of marriage have to do with fanatical housekeeping. My answer is: Everything.—Regular Reader, El Dorado, Ark.

Dear Reader: I agree with 98 per cent of your letter but don't think that the purchase of a pair of shoes is analogous to premarital sexual relations—Shoes are shoes, and sex is sex, and what applies to the feet doesn't necessarily hold true for other parts of the anatomy.

In regard to the pros and cons of meticulous housekeeping, I think they can be boiled down to a wife's temperament and sense of values. I know a mother of five whose house is always a shambles but her family is one of the happiest I've ever seen. I know another mother of four who keeps her house so immaculate that you could walk into it at any hour of the day or night and never find a thing out of place. Do her children and husband suffer as a result? No, they are just as happy as the other family.

Dear Helen: I am 15 and about to enter grade nine. A choice of careers is uppermost in my mind for, once having decided, I can channel my studies accordingly. The two professions which appeal the most to me are modeling and talent scouting. Frankly, I don't know too much about either. Is a high school diploma necessary for modeling? Where are the best modeling schools and what is the length of their term? Do these schools find a job for you or are you on your own, once you graduate? How much does an ordinary model earn? —Ambitious

Dear Ambitious: No matter what career you eventually choose, you have four more years of school ahead of you because a high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement for almost any job. Modeling schools vary considerably not only in their requisites, but also in the length of their courses and in opportunities for placement after graduation. There is also tremendous variation in what models are paid.

Write to John Robert Powers School, 247 Park Avenue, New York City, one of the top agencies in the country, for more information. As to which courses you should take during these coming four years, the person best able to advise you is your high school guidance counselor.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped,

Devotions Continue in Many Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Public school pupils in thousands of classrooms began the first days of school this year with Bible reading or a prayer, despite the U.S. Supreme Court ban against required religious devotions.

Open defiance was rare. But a spot check across the nation indicated that religious devotions have continued in many schools. In many cases, most of whom apparently continued their own or their school's practice, whether prayer, Bible reading, silent meditation, inspirational reading or no devotions.

Some teachers, particularly those in states that had prescribed devotions, apparently dropped the practice. This appeared to be the case in parts of Pennsylvania. Its law requiring Bible reading was struck down by the high court.

Public schools in Florida, Tennessee, South Carolina and Arkansas were reported continuing traditional prayer or Bible reading in the absence of any orders from state school officials.

In New England, silent meditation replaced devotions in most classrooms. But in North Brookfield (Mass.) High School, the first day began with recitation of the 100th Psalm and the Lord's Prayer at an assembly. Any pupil or teacher had permission to leave the hall. None did. School officials said they would continue the devotion until challenged, when they would review their position.

In Hawthorne, N.J., the Lord's Prayer and five verses of the Old Testament were recited. The school's lawyer said pupils not wishing to participate could remain silent or leave the room. Teachers who objected could ask that another conduct the devotions.

School officials in Atlanta and a district in San Antonio, Tex., said that since devotions had been voluntary in the past, they would continue on that basis.

One case of open defiance was in Alabama, where Gov. George C. Wallace has said: "We don't care what the Supreme Court says." Daily Bible readings, without comment, will continue as required by state law, Wallace said.

The court's ruling had little effect in several areas where prayer

Interchange Is Open to Traffic

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Markham Street Interchange of the Little Rock Interstate freeway system was opened to traffic today. The state Highway Department has set Sept. 15 as the probable completion date of the last section of a $37 million route through the city giving a clear flow of traffic from Jacksonville on the north to Benton on the south.

Pile Tests for River Locks

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—U.S. Army Engineers will start pile testing Monday near the proposed site of Navigation Lock and Dam 4 on the Arkansas River.

The project is located on the north bank of the river, about 10 miles south of Pine Bluff. Purpose of the program is to determine qualities of pilings to be used in river projects. Engineers said. Engineers said 16 and 20 inch square pre-stressed concrete piling will be driven. Completion of driving is scheduled Sept. 23 and testing Oct. 16. Several types of hammers will be used to test the piling.

Hodges in Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —Luther H. Hodges, U.S. secretary of commerce, arrived Thursday night in Dubrovnik, the Yugoslav Adriatic summer resort. Hodges, accompanied by his wife, came from Rome. He will attend Saturday's opening of the International Fair at Zagreb where the United States has its own pavilion.

and Bible reading had been forbidden by state law—as in Illinois—or simply not been the custom—as in Arizona.

Boa Constrictor Weathers Storm

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—A foot boa constrictor snake on display in a downtown El Dorado store weathered a wind storm that sent the glass in the firm's front display window crashing around its container Thursday.
Devil Windham, manager for an aquarium supply firm that was exhibiting the snake, said he cleared the area of spectators just in case—but the constrictor remained calm.

Bobcats Lose To Razorbacks By 19-7 Score

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Writer

A more than capacity crowd of about 5 thousand watched the Hope Bobcats crushed beneath the strong passing attack of the Texarkana Razorbacks by the score of 19-7.

Coach Francis summed the game up as a lot of mistakes. "We literally went to pieces. We lacked any discipline at all." He also added "there'll be some changes Monday."

The Bobcat's one and only drive that paid off was on first possession of the ball. Fullback Richard McDowell sparked it with a 27-yard run to Hope's own 46. The first penetration of Hog territory came on the next play when quarterback Mac McLarty kept the ball to go to the enemy 30. McLarty again kept the pigskin (rather ironic nickname) to advance to the 20, but twenty yards worth of penalties quickly put the Cats back on the 40. It took some brilliant running on a fourth down keeper by McLarty to get the Cats in striking range again. In two plays McDowell moved the ball from the 15 to the 5 and from there, McLarty took it in for the tally. Vince Massanelli converted to the Cats ahead 7-0.

Being behind obviously fired up the Pigs, because they wouldn't give up the ball until they had marched sixty-eight for a touchdown, scoring on a 7-yard pass play from quarterback Gene Lott to wingback Phillip Gray. PAT failed when right linebacker Jerry Burnett rushed through to down the man trying to run after he dropped the ball. It was then several minutes into the second period.

After Hope accomplished nothing, the Pigs again tenaciously kept the ball for a 75-yard drive, highlighted by a 20-yard run by wingback DeWayne Patterson and a 14-yard pass play from QB Freddie Green to end Travis Giles. The Bobcats held inside the five for three downs, but Lott managed to sneak through for the TD on fourth. Extra point, no good. Texarkana 12, Hope 7.

With six seconds to go in the first half, Hope lost any chance to score on an interception by Lott.

Receiving the kickoff, the Cats penetrated to the Hog 21, only to have a pass to Burnett, who was in the clear, slip through his fingers and then have another pass to John Wayne Hughes, right end, picked off by a defensive Piker.

Texarkana couldn't move, so Hope took the punt on their own 40, and marched to the enemy 25, to there only lose it on downs. The Hogs got out to the 35, where Green took to the skyways to send a long one to Giles, who made it all the way to the 5 before he was stopped by the shoestring tackle of safety Mutt Wassell. The fourth period began, and in three more plays, fullback David Cooper rammed in from the 2 for the score. PAT was successful, and Texarkana was out front 19-7.

The teams exchanged the ball several times visiting their grandparents Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Walker of Hope, and their parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker, Jr. and family of Houston, Tex.

They will be returning to New Haven, Connecticut where he will resume his studies in law at Yale University, after a brief visit with Mrs. Walker's parents Dr. and Mrs. Murry Blackmore in Nashville, Tenn.

the Academic and God

The Great Teacher once said, when the fig tree buds it is spring. We might add, when the youngsters go back to school, it is fall. What a challenge back-to-school brings. It is time to learn more about math, and science, and citizenship, and God. How necessary to our American way of life are these basic requirements in our educational system. Our curriculum must include some precepts of Jesus if we are to have sufficient moral and spiritual stamina to endure. It has been said, education without a knowledge of God is dangerous. Our teachers, our preachers, and all loyal Americans should see to it that our basic education be broad enough to include both the academic and God. Of course our youngsters should be loyal to their colors, to their school, but they should also be faithful subjects of the Great God. They should worship in church every week.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

THE CHURCHES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION, THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for all men to stand up and be counted . . . to combat Communism on all fronts . . . to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD . . .
